Response To the Applicant's Arguments

In reply to the Applicant's arguments, claims 9, 13, 17, 28, 32, 36, 47, 51 and 55 pertain, as described on page 24: 1 to page 25: 13, to another method or another embodiment for creating interest categories, besides the method described in fig. 6, based on the interests of other consumers that have similar interests as the consumer, as performed in a collaborative filtering system, and wherein the interest profile information collected through the collaborative filtering system is used to at least present targeted advertising information to the consumer (second species). Hence, contrary to the Applicant's remarks, the restriction requirement, based on the presence of different species, is proper. Furthermore, because the disclosed inventions are distinct and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes is proper. Furthermore, Group I comprises more than one species and a new restriction requirement is submitted below. For more details, Applicant is encouraged to contact the Examiner.

Election Restriction

Claims 1, 20, 39 and 58-60 generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising.

I. Claims 2-8, 10-12, 14, 21-27, 29-31, 33, 40-46, 48-50 and 52 drawn to a system and method for receiving an update schedule from a plurality of web sites and for providing the update schedule of selected sites to at least one consumer.

Art Unit: 3622

III. Claims 15, 16, 18-19, 34, 35, 37, 38, 53, 54, 56 and 57, drawn to a system and method for placing advertisements in the web site update schedule forwarded to the user based on the consumer's or user's interest.

III. Claims 9, 13, 17, 28, 32, 36, 47, 51 and 55 pertain, as described on page 24: 1 to page 25: 13, to another method or another embodiment for creating interest categories, besides the method described in fig. 6, based on the interests of other consumers that have similar interests as the consumer, as performed in a collaborative filtering system, and wherein the interest profile information collected through the collaborative filtering system is used to at least present targeted advertising information to the consumer (second species).

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
